

wak-igh-an 1967

JOHNY ROBERT HENDRICKS

Wakelon is more than a school—it is a world within a community. Its walls encompass students of many levels and creeds for whom equality begins as a dream and becomes a reality. Wakelon digests and refines each phase of life.

Vibrant and spirited with the excitement of youthful lives emerging, Wakelon enduces and stimulates latent abilities, producing useful additions to an adult world. Wakelon endows its students with a love for the challenges of learning and competition. It is a factory whose product is education, not only the knowledge gained from books, but more importantly, the knowledge gained from relationships with fellow students—a factory which continues to turn out the giants of tomorrow.

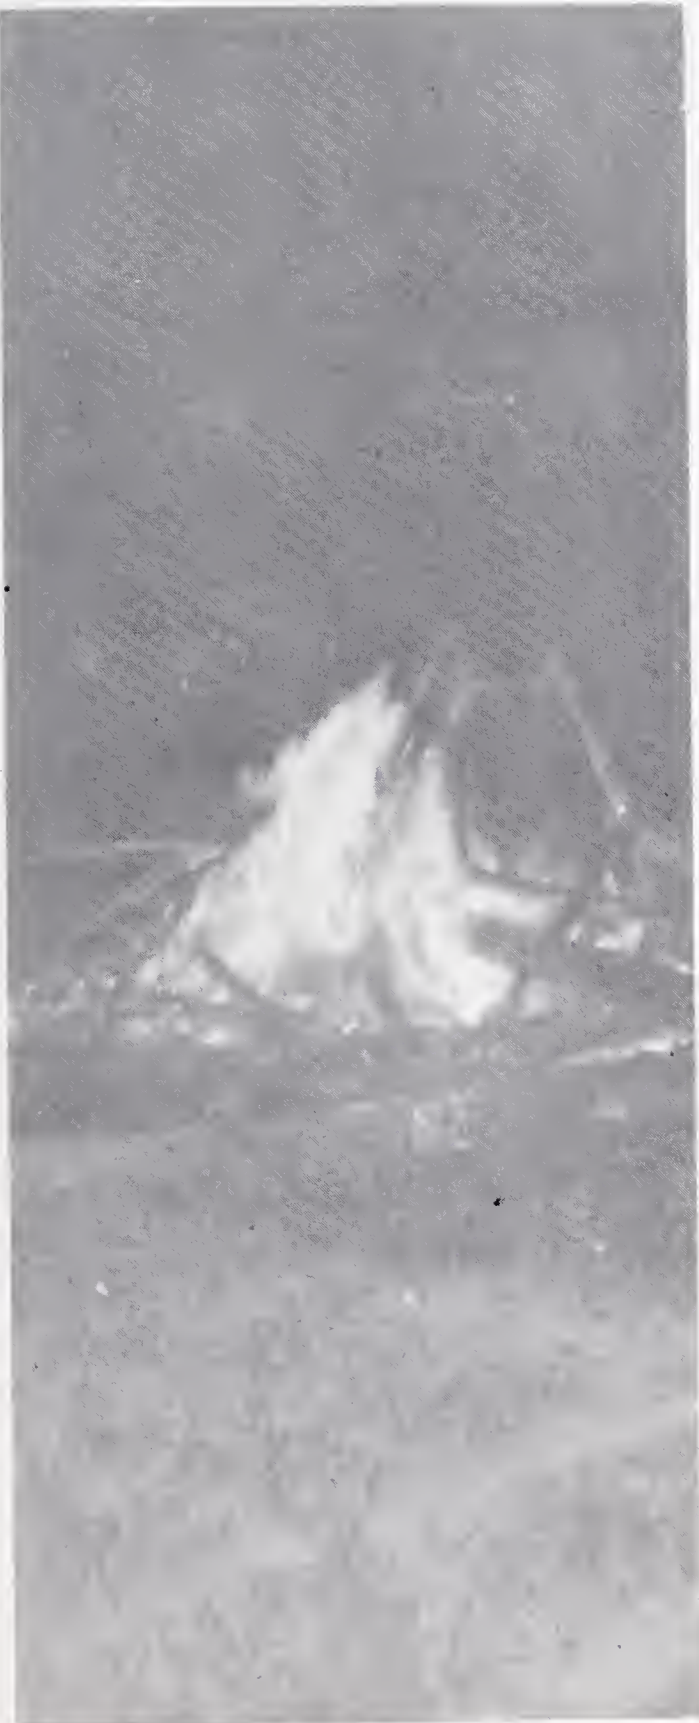

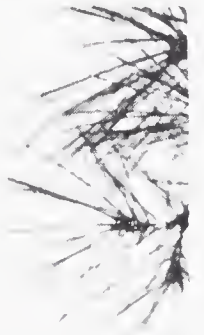

The motivating force behind the publication of the Wak-ign-an of 1966-67 is the desire to express the true spirit dwelling within the hearts of the students at Wakelon High School. This our valedictory to friends, teachers, and one vital period of our growth, is yet our salutation to a future with ever-broadening horizons.

Knowing there is an "eternal fitness of things," we have been developing ourselves toward the end of finding our individual places in the pattern of life. As the author of Ecclesiastes said, "There is . . . a time to every purpose." The pages of this yearbook attempt to illustrate both the vitality and the seriousness of our high school days, so that our tomorrows may be sweetened by the pictorial memories of today.

the school year of '66-67,
a joyous time for every fun-loving Wakelon student.
the brilliant smiles of the rugged and tough football players as they gaily bounce off a mud stained field after practice; the appearance of two well-known friends of the jet set with words and films for holiday cheer; and the gleeful plea of the sorrowful lion who begs pitifully for an ounce of courage. the experience was a gay one and the memories are now joyful remembrances.

homecoming highlights spirited year

October spun a gossamer thread around scores of Wakelon students, hopeful as Homecoming approached. The annual Bon-Fire was held the night before the Game, the first chapter of the '67 Homecoming tradition. The morning of the fourteenth began in zestful excitement as all four classes participated in the final election. The Juniors decorated the platform, the goal posts, press box, and concession stands. The Student Councilers lined up the parade and field formation. All afternoon was consumed with last minute arrangements and car-washings. Half-time activities climaxed the week-long anticipations. After a moment of hushed silence, the decision was announced—Linda Kimball, 1967 Homecoming Queen.

mr. james m. smith, principal

we thank you, mr. smith
we thank you, though inadequately,
for your resonant voice
at the games,
in the auditorium;
for your steadfast adherence
to truth;
for your vision and insight;
for hearing us out,
truly considering our problems,
helping us out;
for your smile of encouragement;
for demanding our best performance;
for your wit;
for your untiring energy.
planning, work;
for your community spirit,
school spirit;
we say again
thank you.

we thank you, mrs. bowling and mr. deans.
 our words of gratitude
 are ineffectual efforts
 to express indebtedness felt
 for your words of wise leadership,
 kind-hearted friendship.
 providing dedicated, skillful service,
 instructing us, aiding us, guiding us.
 devoted service as our secretary and counselor;
 your keen sense of humor,
 your interest in our welfare.
 we will remember you.

Teaching is more than a presentation of cold hard facts. It is an art—the art of expressing oneself coherently, of capturing the wondering attentions of high school and elementary students, of probing the lazy and challenging the industrious and of gaining the respect and confidence of all the students. Bridging the gap between fact and understanding, the teaching profession has finally achieved a position of prominence. It is the divining rod by which intelligence is discovered; the drill by which it is extracted.

Like the offensive lines in pro football, the custodians, cafeteria workers, and bus drivers do an essential but largely thankless job. Preparing a hot meal for a mob of starving students is no mere task; but with the help of a sparkling kitchen, the cafeteria staff keep turning out mass-produced lunches.

The bus drivers are responsible for the lives of about one-half of Wakelon's students. They must be able to show authority and good judgment. Somehow, they always seem to accomplish the impossible.

Responsible for keeping the school in good working order, the custodians are constantly at work sweeping halls, straightening desks, repairing anything broken, and "bedding Wakelon down" before leaving.

Knowing their last year of high school would linger with them for the rest of their lives, the Seniors strove to make it a memorable one. Their attentions were split between preparing for college academically and making the most of the last nine months socially. There were many groups—the intellectuals, the athletes, the toughs—but all were unified in their quest to turn knowledge into experience.

time of dedication

The greatest of all compliments paid to a dedicated teacher by Geoffrey Chaucer five hundred and eighty-one years ago remains a standard by which the profession must judge itself. The person we commend is the embodiment of this standard and is truly deserving of the honor which the dedication of this yearbook bestows. During thirty-eight years of service at Wakelon, she has served as an inspiration to students and faculty. Through her warm personal interest and concern for people, especially her Home Ec. girls, she encourages one to give as fully of himself as she has surely given of herself.

It is our honor and pleasure to recognize one who radiates the true beauty of wisdom, enthusiasm, and concern for her fellowman...Miss Mary Lacy Palmer.

Gladly wolde (she) lerne and gladly teche...
Geoffrey Chaucer

. . . of remembrance

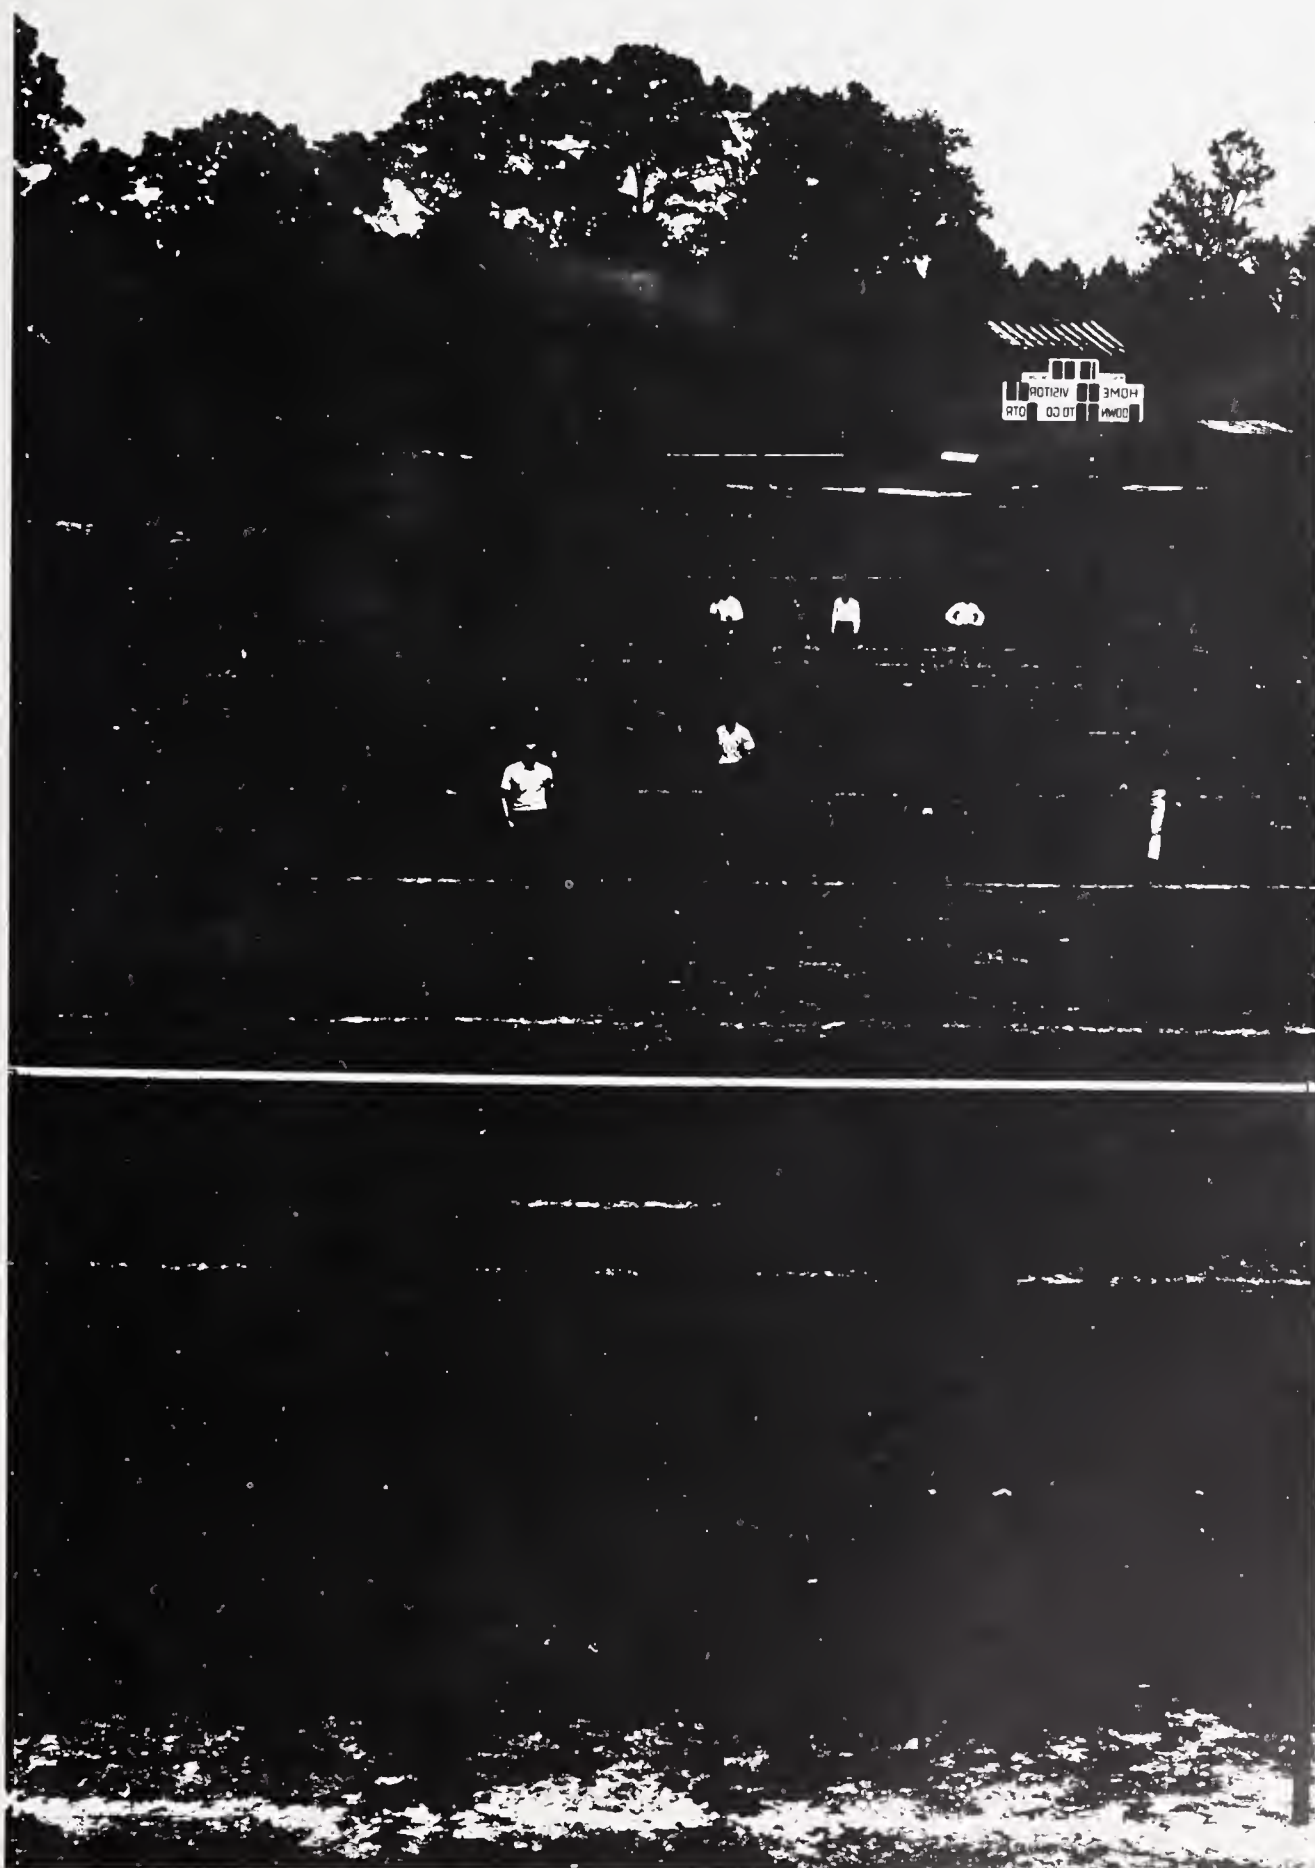

It is with fond remembrance that we, the Annual Staff of Wakelon, choose to retain the memory of Mrs. Marquerite Jones who was killed Thanksgiving Day, November 25, 1965. Mrs. Jones taught elementary students at Wakelon for fifteen years. She dedicated her life to helping the young people of our community. Even after her retirement in 1961, she was still a part of school life and she will always be remembered by her former students with a warm feeling of gratitude.

a time of action

to any athlete

There are little eyes upon you,
And they're watching night and day,
There are little ears that quickly
Take in every word you say;
There are little hands all eager
To do anything you do;
And a little boy who's dreaming
Of the day he'll be like you.

You're the little fellow's idol;
You're the wisest of the wise,
In his little mind about you,
No suspicions ever rise;
He believes in you devoutly,
Holds that all you say and do,
He will say and do, in your way
When he's a grown-up like you.

There's a wide-eyed little fellow,
Who believes you're always right,
And his ears are always open,
And he watches day and night;
You are setting an example
Every day in all you do,
For the little boy who's waiting
To grow up to be like you.

PEOPLES BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

Robert D. Massey, Vice-President

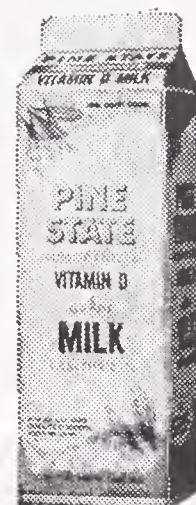

Zebulon, North Carolina

Have you ever sat down to think about banks? Take piggy banks. Now piggy banks are wonderful little places to store your left over change, but after a while your money will outgrow your bank, so naturally you go out and buy a larger one. Now if you keep this up, you will spend quite a portion of your money on piggy banks. Just think how much better off you could be if your money was in PEOPLES BANK AND TRUST COMPANY in Zebulon. They offer so many ways to save. Go in and see them the next time your piggy bank cracks. You know when you think about it, banks are really nice people.

Gold Medallion

When you buy or build specify a Gold Medallion Home, and step up to the joy of All-Electric living. The whole family will love it.

In a Gold Medallion Home clean, flameless electricity keeps you warm and cooks your meals, heats the water and gives you light for living. And it works in so many other ways to make housekeeping chores easier and living better.

P.S. CP&L's rate for all-electric homes has been reduced four times since 1960. Electric living is cheaper than ever.

251 teenagers thank you for your advertisements in the 1967 WAK-IGH-AN. You will be among the first on the shoppers' guide of this teen-age customer market. However, this does not tell the whole story. As the years go by, the WAK-IGH-AN will become a cherished possession, and your advertisement will be seen again and again by the potential customers of the future. Thank you again for your investment in the youth of our community—the leaders of tomorrow's world.
